WICHITA MARKETS.

Receipts of Live Stock at the Union Stock 128 cattle. The supply of cattle was fair and consisted of some 70 head of good shipping steers W. H. Going, Secretary. and for which a good price was offered by a local shipper. The owner would not accept the offer and they were shipped on without changing hands. The balance of the offerings were composed of a few of all kinds only a part of which changed hands here. The market was lifeless as the local buyers who purchase on this market and ship east claim they lost money all last week, and they would not buy today except at their own figures. The supply of hogs was good for opening day and ahead of expectations. The market was active throughout and fully 2 1-2 cents higher than Saturday's closing price for packers' grades. Heavies and roughs sold about 71-2 cents under those grades. Market closed strong, and looks well for strong prices tomorrow.

WICHITA LIVE STOCK MARKET.

WICHITA, Kan., July 7.

Receipts 100. Shioments 128.

The supply was fair and fully up to the wants of the buyers. The market was nothing to brag on its fact it was very unsatisfactory and mean. Men who buy on this market and ship on had little courage to take hold on account of baving lost money on their subpress week. Consequently only a few multi-changed hands. Local butchers, purchased a few. It is bard to tell when, there will be any improvement in the cattle market.

OFFICE OF LIVE STOCK SANITARY COM-

MISSION,
TOPEKA, KANSAS, July I, 1890.
To all Ballway, Live Stock Car. Express or Transportation Companies doing the business of Shipping or Transporting Cattle in the State of Kansas. It is hereby ordered, that on and after Topes A. Kansas, July I. 1890.

To all Baliway, Live Stock Car. Express or Transportation Companies doing the business of Shipping of Transporting Cattle in the State of Kansas. It is hereby ordered that on and after this date all cars, of winatsoever description, that are used or offered to be loaded with native northern cattle for transportation in the state of Kansas, that said cars first before being loaded with native cattle be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected, as follows: All fitter and old bedding to be removed, and, in case of stable cars, all bay left in the racks from former shipments must be removed, and the watering troughs cleansed. The floor and walls of the cars must be washed, until clean, with water; then disinfect the cars by saturating the walls and floor with a solution of four oances of chloride of lime to one gallon of water, using at least four gallons of this preparation per oar.

All stock yard companies doing business in the state of Kansas are hereby ordered not to load native northern cattle into any cars that have not first been cleaned and disinfected according to the above order.

This order will be enforced under the provisions of section 8, chapter 2, laws of spe-cial session 1884, which is as follows: "Sec. 8. It shall be the duty of the rail-"Sec. 8. It shall be the duty of the rail-way corporations doing business in this state to cleanse and disinfect the cars used by them in transporting stock in this state, at such times and places as the commis-sion may designate, whenever in the opin-ion of the commission any such order may be necessary to prevent the spread of in-fectious or contagious diseases. with the natives.

William Crawford, 22 years old, who died recently in Chicago, was peculiarly afflicted. He had only one skin, which is to say that he had no onter skin at all. The veins stood out all over his body in the plainest manner possible. From the time he was 6 years of age young Crawford had been subject to bleeding spells, which were liable to break out at any time and in any part of his body. He lost vast quantities of blood in this way, and was afraid to take any sort of exercise for fear of starting the bleeding afresh. For two weeks the young man had been confined to his bed, being too weak to sit up, and bleeding at the nose having set in he soon passed away. Physicians were sent for from various cities in the east, but they could do nothing for him. A new skin could not be grafted on.-Montreal Star.

Louis' Fanaticism. Louis XIV had a terrible fear of hell, and believed that anybody not in favor with the Jesuits would surely be damned. A courtier once wished to take a certain gentleman into his service. The Jesuits, to injure the said gentleman in the king's estimation, said he was a Jansenist. His majesty sent for the courtier and said to him: "What is this I hear? Are you thinking of taking a Jansenist into your service?" "I?" answered the courtier; "I never even thought of such a thing." "But," said the king, "you are certainly going to take ----, whose mother is Jansenist." "As for him," replied the courtier, laughing, "far from being Jansenist, he does not even believe in God!" The following is from Joseph Jefferson's autobiography in The Cenfury: "I bave had Irish blood in him, for he was continually apreading the tail of his coat for a fight—I mean an intellectual fight, as physically he was not pugnacious. Quarrelsome persons who do not include in puglistic encounters are found of law suits: it is only another way of having it out, and Burten must have spent a fortune in fees. His number on the without standard was quite equal to that of Sam Weller. On one eccasion while he actor was going through bankruptcy, an emulated and proposed in puglished through the detected a desire on Burton's part to detected a desire on Burton's part to have had Irish blood in him, for he was detected a desire on Burton's part to conceal some facts relative to a large sum of money that he had made during the production of the 'Naiad Queen. Rising with great dignity, and glaring fiercely at Burton, he demanded: 'What became of that money, sir? The come-
